

Pamela Gossin is Professor of the History of Science and Literature in the School of Arts, Humanities and Technology at the University of Texas, Dallas. She holds a double-Phd from the University of Wisconsin, Madison, with a dissertation project entitled: "Poetic Resolutions of Scientific Revolutions: Astronomy and the Literary Imaginations of Donne, Swift and Hardy." At UT-Dallas, she is the Director of the program in Medicine, Arts, Sciences and Humanities (MASH) where she teaches courses that explore the interrelations of the history of science and literature, such as: "History of Science: Hidden Figures"; "Astronomy, Cosmology and Culture"; Medical Humanities, Environmental Humanities; and Science Fiction and Fantasy works of Japanese anime and manga. Her major publications include: Thomas Hardy's Novel Universe: Astronomy, Cosmology and Gender in the Post-Darwinian World (Routledge/Ashgate) and An Encyclopedia of Literature and Science (Greenwood).