

Dubravko Mihaljek - Senior Adviser, Monetary and Economic Department, Bank for International Settlements. Dubravko Mihaljek, leads MED efforts to enhance outreach to central banks in Africa, central and eastern Europe and the Middle East. He coordinates MED engagement with European Union institutions, monitors global macro-financial and policy developments, and contributes to MED analysis of the global economy. He was Head of Operations (2019–22), Adviser (2018-19), Head of Macroeconomic Analysis (2011-18), Head of Emerging Markets (2010-11), Secretary to the Group of Governors from Small Open Economies (since 2009), and a Senior Economist in MED (1999-2010). He studied economics at the University of Pittsburgh (PhD, 1990), University of Minnesota (MA, 1986) and University of Zagreb (BA, 1981). His fields of interest include macroeconomics, international economics and public finance.